DEC 2019 - FE / QP Message

Sharing by FE graduate (from HKCA 2019 Dec FE online student, Ms. D. Chan):

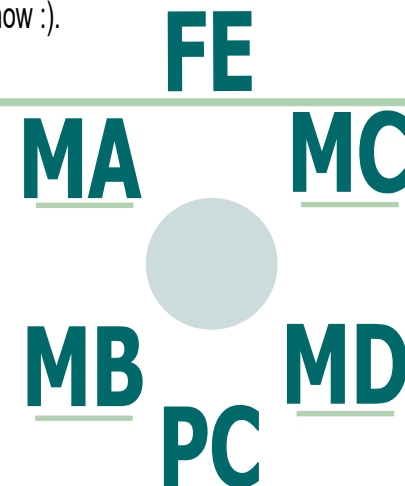

"I just want to share my good news that I have finally passed the Final Exam. Thank you for your teaching and support! I am so happy now :)."

The tips are to study and practice on MD, MB, and MC as early as possible. Most of the exam topics for these subjects are recurring every year so there are really no need to wait for the release of the special topics.

For MA, the new standards must be very familiarised (HKFRS 15 and HKFRS 16). It is expected they will test deep into the subjects. Maybe useful to read through the examples in the standards. For HKFRS 15, as the scope is very wide, it is suggested to use elimination approach if don't have time. Priority be placed on Basic Knowledge, then different scenarios (eg. customer loyalty, refund etc eliminating those already tested).

For 1st time taker of FE, it is important to try out the past paper like HKCA suggested so to get the overall feel of the style of final exam. 1st time taker needs to understand that the FE exam is unlike Module exam, they cannot just pass by doing more and more past paper as FE seldom repeat the questions. Need to be study selectively as time is very tight.

Everyone should have their own plan on study, organizing plan and keeping pace according to it will help."
